

Pilgrimage to Headquarters: A New (Nu) Annual Tradition

In January, Nu Chapter embarked on its inaugural candidate class pilgrimage to the Sigma Nu National Fraternity Headquarters in Lexington, Virginia. Designed by the undergraduate chapter, this pilgrimage served as the final formative experience before the candidates' initiation.

The group departed Lawrence, Kansas, early on the morning of January 16th for a 15-hour bus ride to Virginia. The candidate class—composed primarily of freshmen—was accompanied by upperclassmen holding executive leadership roles, including the future commander. Representing the alumni chapter were Corporation Board President Mark Mustoe, Chapter Advisor Kyle Svoboda, and myself. In total, nearly 50 men represented Nu Chapter on this historic retreat.

Lexington is a quaint, historic town steeped in Civil War heritage. It is home to Washington and Lee University and the Virginia Military Institute—two remarkably different campuses separated by a road scarcely wider than a golf cart path. The Sigma Nu Fraternal Estate sits atop the highest point in Lexington, offering panoramic views of downtown and the surrounding academic institutions. The undergraduate members were housed in the Spears Family Epsilon Epsilon Center for Excellence. The Spears Center contained a barracks for the undergraduates, kitchen and dining facilities and educational classrooms.

During the visit, Brother Svoboda discovered a compelling collection of essays in the Sigma Nu library from 1914 titled College Life: Its Conditions and Problems. Remarkably, many of the challenges discussed—related to student life and fraternities—mirror contemporary issues. One essay, The Value of the College Fraternity, written by Professor Elbridge Colby of Columbia University, stood out. Colby wrote:

"It is manifestly unfair that the American college fraternity should have been advertised throughout the country in its worst light—and only so... Thus [Henry David] Thoreau never read the newspapers because he said it was nothing more than gossip, and gossip is never representative. So the fraternity has become the victim of a kind of yellow journalism—of a pernicious kind, for the permanency and dignity of a published book over the passing of a news-sheet seems to lend weight and authority to arguments advanced." (p. 341)

While fraternities today are often associated with negative headlines—ranging from hazing to poor academic integrity—Nu Chapter is intentionally setting itself apart from these narratives. Our chapter is being elevated through a leadership culture grounded in Love, Truth, and Honor.

The pilgrimage included leadership development workshops, historical sessions, and tours of the Washington and Lee and VMI campuses. Highlights included visits to historic sites at VMI where Sigma Nu founders Hopkins, Quarles, and Riley established the Legion of Honor in secrecy. The leadership training began with a keynote address by Brad Beacham, Executive Director of Sigma Nu National Fraternity. Brother Beacham shared the significant contributions of Nu Chapter's founding brothers—Perlee Rawson Bennett, Grant Harrington, and Walter J. Sears—to the national fraternity following the Civil War. Most importantly, he articulated the deep responsibility and high expectations that come with being a member of Nu Chapter.

Additional sessions covered The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People, values and ethics, time management, and team-building exercises. In the evenings, the undergraduates enjoyed time for fellowship, including poker tournaments and a Chiefs watch party. The overall experience rivaled top-tier corporate leadership retreats in both structure and impact.

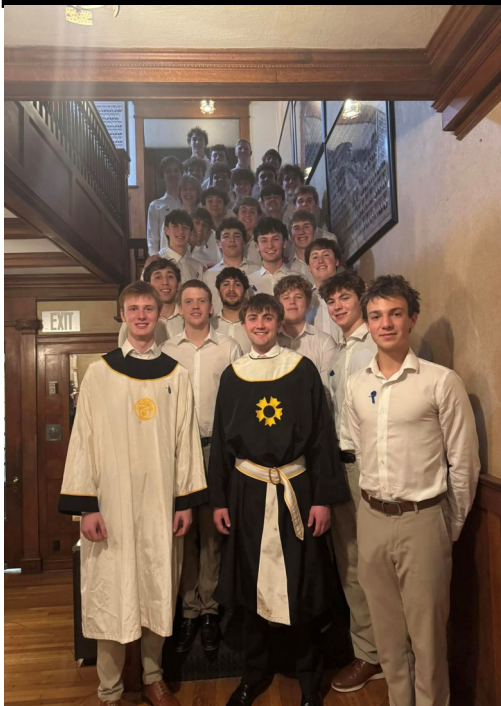

We are excited to continue this meaningful tradition in January 2026 with next year's candidate class. As Professor Colby so eloquently stated:

"In college, the fraternity stands for a coordination and settling; it takes the young man in the four best years of his life and helps him to understand, and to become what he seriously intends to be." (p. 349)

Through intentional leadership training and a commitment to values, Nu Chapter is building a culture that sets it apart—not only at the University of Kansas, but across the nation.

Initiation Traditions and Legacies, January 25, 2025

On January 25th, the actives officially welcomed a new class of brothers into our chapter. The ceremony was a proud moment for everyone involved, marking the culmination of months of dedication, learning, and brotherhood. Each new initiate has earned his place in our storied lineage, joining a brotherhood that will last a lifetime.

We recognize Squire Smith (Nu #2652) as our Honor Initiate this semester. A freshman from Blue Valley Northwest, Squire joins the brotherhood with an incredible 4.0 GPA—an accomplishment that earned him the distinction of top initiate. His dedication to excellence sets a powerful example for all current and future members. From the beginning of his new member experience, Squire has exemplified the values of integrity, discipline, and brotherhood—balancing academic rigor with meaningful engagement in chapter life. His achievement is a reflection of personal commitment and a testament to the high standards we uphold as a chapter.

This semester, we welcomed 28 new brothers into the fraternity, with Nu numbers ranging from 2652 to 2679. We are excited to watch this new class grow into future leaders of Nu Chapter.

In addition to a meaningful Initiation, we are proud to highlight a historic academic achievement by our new member class. This semester, they earned a GPA of 3.49—the highest new member GPA in our chapter's history. This exceptional performance placed us 9th overall in Sorority and Fraternity Life and 2nd among all IFC chapters. Such a milestone speaks to the caliber of men we continue to recruit and the strong academic culture fostered within the chapter. We commend our newest brothers for their commitment to excellence and look forward to their continued growth in and out of the classroom.

HARRINGTON HOLLOWAY FOUNDATION SPOTLIGHT

Squire Smith, Nu 2653

The Harrington Holloway Educational Foundation Trustees recently granted Squire Smith (Overland Park freshman) tuition assistance for the 2025-26 academic year. Squire was the Honor Initiate of his pledge class and is paying his own way through KU. The following is an excerpt from his application.

Growing up with three brothers raised by our mom, a single mother, taught me the value of appreciating the people around us.

Being the youngest of my brothers, I always looked to follow their footsteps and the way they carried themselves. Even as kids, the four of us developed an understanding of teamwork and strength in numbers. We knew that if we worked together to finish a project or task it would be quickest to work together and lean on each other. This taught me the importance of surrounding yourself with the right people – those who care for you and want you to succeed.

When I first joined Sigma Nu I realized this fraternity would allow me to continue those brother-like role models that I could look to for guidance. My decision to join Sigma Nu is one I thought about for months and will never regret. In my first semester I connected with great guys and built friendships that will last a lifetime.

My goal is to be as involved in Sigma Nu as possible. At the start of fall semester I was elected Pledge Class Vice President, a role that gave me experience in leading 30+ peers. Recently, I was elected Recorder for the coming year and look forward to serving a key role on the chapter's Executive Team.

I'm excited to continue growing and learning through Sigma Nu during my sophomore year and beyond.

If you would like to financially support Squire and other deserving Nu Chapter members facing financial challenges, contact Steve Sears, Nu 1570, at stevesears79@gmail.com

JC Hixon, Nu #1190

Joseph Charles (J.C.) Hixon Nu 1190 1965 died peacefully, surrounded by family, on January 14, 2025, in Denver CO at age 79.

He grew up on farmland in St. Francis Kansas where he developed a love of the outdoors, including hunting and golf, two passions he pursued for the rest of his life. Each fall he would return to his hometown to hunt pheasants with old friends. An outstanding marksman JC earned numerous first place medals in clay pigeon shooting tournaments in Colorado.

He was a decorated high school athlete excelling in track and football. JC set, and still holds, the Kansas high school record for the 100 yard dash at 9.7 seconds. He will hold that record forever as track races moved to the metric system.

He received a football scholarship to KU and played alongside notable players including Gayle Sayers, John Riggins, Bobby Douglas and fellow Nu Chapter brother Sandy Buda. After graduation JC and Sandy coached KU football as assistants under head coach Pepper Rodgers. While at KU he met his wife, Sherril, and they married in 1970.

He had a long career in Finance and Real Estate. First as a bond manager in Kansas City and Denver for The Hartford and later as a board member for the Pauls Corp., a property management company.

JC leaves behind his wife Sherril, his daughter Jill, son Brett and three grandchildren.

Alumni Attend Spring 2025 Initiation

Many Nu Chapter alums attended initiation on January 25, 2025. Most were from Nu chapter in their roles as family members or alumni volunteers. We also had the privilege of having Jeremy Edwards and Rob Platt from the Zeta Lambda chapter at the University of Tulsa. Brother Edwards is the Central Plains Divisional Commander and represented National during the ceremony. Brother Platt is a pledge brother of Brother Edwards who lives in Kansas City and attended as a guest. The alums enjoyed a steak dinner with the chapter prior to the ceremony. Afterwards, the alums gathered in the TV room to witness the Jayhawks melt down vs the University of Houston.

Virtual Annual Meeting, May 27, 2025 at 7:00pm Central

The bonds forged during our time as active members of Nu Chapter at the University of Kansas remain a cornerstone of our lives long after graduation. The principles of brotherhood, scholarship, and service that were instilled within the walls of the Stubbs Mansion continue to shape our personal and professional journeys. But the strength and vitality of our fraternity don't end with our collegiate years; they are sustained and amplified by the active participation of alumni. A crucial element of this ongoing strength lies in the structure of our alumni organization and engagement of our alumni members.

The Law of Sigma Nu provides for three components of a strong alumni organization: the Alumni chapter, the corporation board and the alumni advisory board. Each function within the alumni organization provides an essential function.

the active chapter officers, this role is especially for you. Contact Kyle at (636) 219-3803.

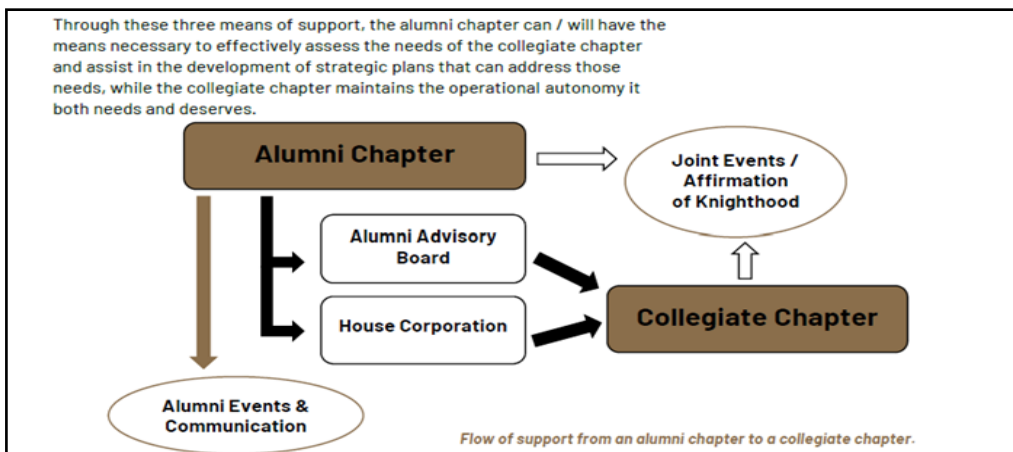

The Corporation Board performs the role of landlord for our beloved Stubbs Mansion. The primary role of a house corporation is to provide continuity and financial stability to the chapter facility. Chapter membership changes every year, but the house corporation remains constant, with members having a long-term perspective and commitment to the proper management of the chapter facility to ensure a home for the collegiate chapter for generations to come. Our Corp Board is best in class! In fact, Mark Mustoe, N1486, received national recognition as the Corporation Board Member of the year. As evidenced by our new $4M addition/renovation, Mark and his team are doing an amazing job of maintaining the historic character of the Stubbs Mansion while laying the groundwork (pardon the pun) for ating proformas / cash flow projections there's a spot for you. For either the facility or financial management roles, reach out to Mark Mustoe at (404) 593-4099.

Finally, there's the Alumni Chapter. The Alumni Chapter is designed to be the mechanism for re-connecting back to Nu Chapter. As an Alumni Chapter member, there are few expectations - participate in the activities and annual meetings. Curiously, there is a perception among some that the numerous alums who are currently very actively involved in the House have always been hard-core Sigma Nus – continuously involved with the House since they graduated. While that may be the case for a few, 90% of the involved alums became involved because they came to an event like Homecoming or they were asked. Honestly, I got involved because I had planned a few of my pledge class reunions. We expanded those events to include other pledge classes. Based on that I got to know alums from other decades and now, here I am, eight years later, serving as the Alumni Chapter Commander after few years as Corp Board president. It's been very rewarding to develop a new cadre of friends comprised of alums whose ages span the decades.

Much alumni energy, money and time have been devoted to the new addition. We will celebrate it's opening this Fall. Now it's time to focus on building up the Active Chapter. Are you ready to help make our Alumni Chapter best in class? You can start by attending our virtual Annual Meeting on Tuesday, May 27, 2025 at 7:00pm Central. You will see a Zoom link via email. We will provide an overview of the Alumni Chapter, vote on a slate of officers, discuss upcoming events like Homecoming and Governor's Ball and discuss opportunities for the future. We are convening remotely in order to increase meeting participation. If you know you would like to immediately get involved in a leadership role within Alumni Chapter, you are welcome to reach out to me at (816) 885-6335.

Jon Brax, N1676, Alumni Chapter Commander

The Alumni Advisory Board (AAB) is designed to have the most direct interaction with the collegiate members. The AAB is an entity that will share the workload of the traditional Chapter Advisor position. Rather than one individual working with a chapter, a board of seven or more alumni is assembled to serve this role. Kyle Svoboda, N2444, is currently serving as both the Chapter Advisor and as the Chair of the AAB. He has a strong team of active alums but is looking for even more help. If you have a desire to work directly with the student members – particularly the officers, then a role on the AAB is for you. If you were a Commander, LC, Treasurer, Recorder or Chaplain and have three – four hours per month plus availability for a monthly meeting with the generations of collegiate Sigma Nu's yet to come. Are you interested in being part of that exceptional team? The Corp Board is looking for a few new members who can be fairly hands on in managing the transition to the new facility. Especially if you have construction/large facility management experience, there's a role for you on the Corp Board.

Additionally, the Corp Board is charged with establishing the house bill rates, budgeting the cost of food, utilities, maintenance and other operational costs. The Corp Board also oversees our House Director. The Corp Board could use a member or two who are strong in financial management. It's a big job to manage a $1M annual budget. If you have experience with non-profit financial management, cre-

Commander's Update, Charlie Nickel, Nu #2592

This past semester has been one of remarkable achievements for Nu Chapter. We are proud to announce a cumulative chapter GPA of 3.54 and a new member GPA of 3.49, ranking us 9th overall in Sorority and Fraternity Life and 2nd in the IFC. Notably, our chapter outperformed the all-sorority average and significantly exceeded the all-male undergraduate average of 3.205. We also had three members, Miles Bail, Dylan Brosseau, and Luke Olson be elected to IFC executive board. These GPA results reaffirm that fraternities continue to excel academically over the general undergraduate students, and we are committed to maintaining this standard with our incoming class.

In January, Will Robben (LC) and I had the privilege of attending the College of Chapters in Roanoke, Virginia. This leadership conference provided an invaluable opportunity to collaborate with Sigma Nu chapters nationwide and visit our fraternity's headquarters in Lexington, Virginia. Hosted annually by Sigma Nu Nationals, the three-day event focuses on leadership development and chapter management. Will and I were pleased to find that Nu Chapter is positioned to become tied for the most Rock Chapters of any chapter in the nation. Additionally, our freshman class embarked on Nu Chapter's first-ever pilgrimage to Nationals, where they explored Sigma Nu's rich history, participated in LEAD sessions, and toured the Virginia Military Institute. This pilgrimage will continue to serve as a transformative experience, deepening our candidates' appreciation for Nu Chapter's legacy and the values of Sigma Nu.

At the start of the spring semester, we proudly initiated 27 new members in our newly renovated chapter room. This ceremony was particularly special, with four legacies among the initiates. We would also like to recognize Squire Smith, a freshman from Blue Valley Northwest, who was honored as our top initiate after achieving a 4.0 GPA in his first semester. We are excited to watch this new class grow into future leaders of Nu Chapter.

A highlight of the fall semester was Governor's Ball, held on November 16th. Thanks to the efforts of Mark Westhoff and our Corporation Board, the event was an overwhelming success. Hosted at Stubbs Mansion, the evening featured a live band, elegant décor, and exceptional dining. We are also incredibly grateful to our Mom's Club, whose dedication and hard work helped ensure a seamless event. Many attendees described Governor's Ball as the most enjoyable event of their college experience, and we look forward to welcoming even more alumni next year.

As we continue building on Nu Chapter's storied history, we are grateful for the unwavering support of our members. Thank you for your dedication to our Chapter and for helping us strengthen its legacy. #LoveHonorTruth

Recruitment

This recruitment season has been very busy as we try and find the next 29 young men to become candidates at Nu Chapter. As of right now we currently have rushed over 200 young men and have signed 22 of them. Included in this is eight out of state signees as well as six legacies in the incoming class. We also have three bids out right now and hope to capitalize on them all.

One thing our recruitment team is focusing heavily on this year was implementing a GPA requirement. Our house was honored to have the 2nd highest GPA in the IFC this past semester and we hope to continue that legacy going forward. That being said the average GPA of the incoming class is currently a 3.82. We plan on finishing this recruiting class by elections next month and hope to have candidate/parent orientation on May 4th so we can introduce these young men and their families to our house. If you have any referrals please feel free to reach out to us!

We are open to any and all referrals! Please contact us using the information below.

Inter-Fraternity Council (IFC)

This past January marked an important start to something new for three young men in the house, but continued a lasting legacy. Historically our chapter has had a representative on the Inter-Fraternity Executive Board (IFC) for many years in a row. Miles Bail, Dylan Brosseau, and Luke Olson continued that tradition this year. Miles, Nu Chapter's current philanthropy chair, was elected to serve as the IFC Philanthropy chair. Miles recently completed planning and executing a whole month of Chapters for Charity. Events included a basketball tournament, pickleball tournament and bracket challenge. All proceeds and donations will be donated to the Ballard Center.

Luke Olson, Nu Chapter's current social chairman was also elected to the IFC Board as the Director of Recruitment. In this role Luke looks to improve formal recruitment at the University of Kansas. He has also already planned an IFC wide event in May.

Lastly, Dylan Brosseau, Nu Chapter's current recruitment chairman was elected to serve as the Director of Leadership and Member Development for the IFC. In his term so far he has organized guest speakers to go to different chapters on topics related to sports gambling, drug and alcohol abuse and more. He is currently working with New Member Educators to help cultivate a universal IFC New Member Education program to put on in the fall. Overall, Nu Chapter continues to show leadership across the University of Kansas at a high level. LHT.

IFC Chapter of the Year

At the 2025 Sorority & Fraternity Life Awards, Sigma Nu received the Interfraternity Council Chapter of the Year award. Winning this award required our chapter to meet with SFL representatives and answer various questions regarding Sigma Nu's success in the 2024-25 academic year. We were honored to receive this award between all four councils involved, the Interfraternity Council (IFC), the Multicultural Greek Council (MGC), the National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC), and the Panhellenic Association (PHA). The Chapter of the Year award is the highest recognition a fraternity can receive at the University of Kansas. Sigma Nu was recognized for its campus involvement, member leadership, philanthropy, academic achievement, and continuous commitment to the University of Kansas. We were honored to receive this award and are committed to continuing this recognition in coming years. Also at the SFL awards, Sigma Nu received awards recognizing individuals within the chapter for various achievements in the past year. These awards included the New Member/Neophyte Award given to Squire Smith, the Outstanding Campus Leader Award given to Tate Nicholson, and the House Director of the Year Award given to Don Romano.

Scholarship

As proud stewards of Sigma Nu's legacy at the University of Kansas, we are honored to share the Nu Chapter's continued commitment to academic excellence. In the Fall 2024 semester, the chapter achieved a remarkable 3.53 average GPA, once again solidifying our standing as one of the top academic fraternities on campus.

This success is not accidental—it is the result of a sustained and intentional focus on scholarship, a value that has long defined Nu Chapter's identity. Through structured study programs, academic mentorship, and a culture that promotes personal accountability, our members are not only excelling in the classroom but also carrying forward the high standards set by those who came before them.

This past semester, the chapter took several meaningful steps to further invest in our academic culture. We expanded our internal scholarship committee, which now oversees individualized academic planning and support for all brothers. We also continued our long-standing tradition of academic mentoring, pairing upperclassmen with underclassmen based on major and career interests. These relationships not only foster scholastic achievement but also deepen the bonds of brotherhood through shared purpose.

We have increased engagement with university academic resources and expanded participation in leadership development opportunities outside the classroom. Many of our brothers are involved in honors programs, undergraduate research, and academic honor societies—a reflection of the well-rounded and ambitious men that make up the Nu Chapter today.

To our alumni, your legacy continues to shape our chapter's path. Your commitment to academic excellence during your time in the house laid the foundation upon which our current success is built.

Looking ahead, we are focused on building upon this momentum. Our goal is not only to maintain our strong academic performance but to continue evolving challenging ourselves to set new benchmarks for what it means to be a scholar, a leader, and a brother in Sigma Nu.

Philanthropy - Buckets for Luke

Buckets For Luke was a huge success. We've raised just over $27,000, and counting, as the KU Endowment link only updates occasionally. This number greatly increased over the last two years, increasing over $5,000 compared to the previous year. For Sigma Nu, our chapter, along with Beta and Delta, it was a great turnout. The event is tailored around Luke, a member of Beta who was diagnosed with cancer in his freshman year, which is how the event was started. He was able to be in attendance this year as he is currently in remission and doing great! Luke and other members of Beta were able to fly out to the Denver Cancer Research Center, where Luke was operated on, and hand deliver a check with the money we raised! Overall, it was a great event for a great cause. We certainly hope to be a part of this for years to come and continue to grow the event!

Mom's Weekend - April 11 - 12, 2025

On April 11th and April 12th, men of Sigma Nu hosted their annual mom's weekend. During this weekend, sons were able to spend quality time with their mothers. Mothers arrived Friday around 5:00 PM for dinner with each class. Freshman, sophomores, juniors, and seniors each had their own place rented out for dinner before all meeting at Clyde's Tavern for the rest of the night. On Saturday, everyone attended Z & M Twisted Winery for wine tasting and lunch.
